ASSESSMENT POLICY

1. GENERAL

1.1 Purpose and Scope

Applicants to the National Committee on Accreditation (“NCA”) are individuals who seek to practice law in a Common Law Jurisdiction in Canada but were not trained in an Approved Canadian Common Law Program. This Assessment Policy outlines the criteria and processes for assessing the Qualifications of these Applicants for the purposes of granting a Certificate of Qualification. A Certificate of Qualification permits an Applicant to apply to a Regulatory Authority for entry into the bar admission process in a Common Law Jurisdiction in Canada. A Certificate of Qualification does not entitle an individual to practice law.

1.2 Application

This Policy applies to individuals who obtained their legal education from an institution(s) outside of Canada or from a Canadian Civil Law program. It does not apply to graduates of Canadian Common Law Programs (LL.B. or J.D.) approved by the Federation of Law Societies of Canada (“Federation”). It also does not apply to individuals seeking to practice law (common law or civil law) in the province of Quebec. Individuals should contact the Barreau du Quebec for more information on admission to the bar and practicing law in Quebec.

1.3 Definitions

In this Policy, unless the context requires otherwise:

For the purposes of this Policy, a graduate-level law degree, such as a master’s degree (LL.M.), that was obtained following a non-law university-level degree (e.g. B.A., B.Sc.), will not qualify unless the graduate-level degree is a Qualifying Law Degree in the Relevant Jurisdiction.

3. ASSESSMENT CRITERIA

3.1 General

Each application is evaluated on an individual basis. To be eligible for a Certificate of Qualification, an Applicant must demonstrate that they have acquired the competencies and skills equivalent to those required of graduates of Approved Canadian Common Law Programs, as set out in the National Requirement.

3.2 Assessment Criteria

The following criteria will be used in the Assessment of an Applicant's Qualifications:

- Pre-Law Education
- Legal Education
 - Academic Program completed
 - Substantive legal knowledge requirements
 - Length of academic Program
 - Mode of study
 - Academic performance
 - Currency of Qualifications
- Skills Competencies
 - Problem solving
 - Legal research
 - Oral and written communications
- Language Proficiency in English or French

4. PRE-LAW EDUCATION

4.1 Length of Study

An Applicant must demonstrate that they have successfully completed a minimum of two (2) years of full time (or equivalent) post-secondary education in a university-level Program recognized by the post-secondary educational authority in the Relevant Jurisdiction prior to attending law school. An Applicant who does not meet this requirement will be assigned Additional Legal Subjects, which must be successfully completed along with any other requirements set out in the Assessment Decision, to compensate for this deficiency (see subsection 6.3).

4.2 Waiver of Requirement

The Executive Director has sole discretion to waive this requirement when the Applicant:

- a. possesses a law degree from a Program longer than three (3) years in duration (e.g. an integrated B.A./LL.B. that is four (4) or more years in length or its equivalent);
- b. has, subsequent to obtaining a law degree, successfully completed additional post-secondary education in a university-level Program recognized by the post-secondary educational authority in the Relevant Jurisdiction including baccalaureate or graduate-level studies in any field (e.g. B.A., B.Sc., LL.M., MBA);
- c. has, subsequent to obtaining a law degree, successfully completed a bar admission Course or other legal education Program required for licensure as a lawyer, barrister or solicitor; or
- d. has a minimum of five (5) years of Professional Legal Experience as defined in subsection 1.3.

5. LEGAL EDUCATION

5.1 Academic Program Completed

As per section 2 above, to be considered for assessment, an Applicant must have a Qualifying Law Degree.

5.1.1 Advanced Standing

An Applicant who transferred to a different educational institution part-way through their law Program and was given Advanced Standing for Courses completed in their previous Program will have those Courses recognized only if both Programs are Approved Law Programs. Courses that were not part of an Approved Law Program will not be assessed.

5.1.2 Study at Local Learning Centres

Some Approved Law Programs provide the option for students to obtain a law degree by receiving instruction through a Local Learning Centre. Instruction received through a Local Learning Centre will be assessed as Distance Learning under section 7 (see subsection 7.3.1).

5.1.3 Exception for Licensure

Where an Applicant whose law degree is not a Qualifying Law Degree has obtained licensure from a Regulatory Authority through successful completion of substantive examination(s) and/or courses, the Executive Director may, at their sole discretion, determine whether the licensing process is sufficiently comprehensive to compensate for the Applicant not having a Qualifying Law Degree. However, in such circumstances, none of the Core Subjects completed during the Applicant's legal education will be accepted.

5.2 Substantive Legal Knowledge Requirements

An Applicant are required to demonstrate competence in eight (8) substantive common law knowledge areas known as Core Subjects. These are the same subjects required of all graduates of an Approved Canadian Common Law Program.

The eight (8) Core Subjects are:

1. Canadian Administrative Law
2. Canadian Constitutional Law
3. Canadian Criminal Law
4. Canadian Professional Responsibility
5. Foundations of Canadian Law
6. Contracts
7. Property
8. Torts

An Applicant may demonstrate competence in the five (5) Core Subjects with Canadian-specific content (Canadian Administrative Law, Canadian Constitutional Law, Canadian Criminal Law, Canadian Professional Responsibility, and Foundations of Canadian Law) through successful completion of NCA examinations (see section 17), successful completion of Courses in an Approved Canadian Common Law Program (see section 18), or as set out in this section. Courses in these Canadian-specific Core Subjects taken through Programs that are not Approved Canadian Common Law Programs will not be considered except as set out in subsection 5.2.3.2.

An Applicant may demonstrate competence in the three (3) Core Subjects of Contracts, Property and Torts through successful completion of NCA examinations (see section 17), successful completion of Courses taken in an Approved Canadian Common Law Program (see section 18), or as set out below based on the jurisdiction of the Applicant's legal education or licensure.

5.2.1 Applications from Common Law Jurisdictions

An Applicant may demonstrate competence in Contracts, Torts and Property by successfully completing Courses in those subjects as part of a law degree obtained from an Approved Law Program or licensing process in a Common Law Jurisdiction (see the NCA website), subject to the mode of study/interactive learning and legal academic performance requirements outlined in sections 7 and 8, respectively.

5.2.2 Applications from Mixed Law Jurisdictions

An Applicant from a Mixed Law Jurisdiction (see the NCA website) will be assessed on the basis of the common law content of their Qualifications. In addition to being required to demonstrate competence in the eight (8) Core Subjects, such an Applicant may be required to demonstrate competence in Additional Legal Subjects if the Executive Director determines, at their sole discretion, that the Applicant has had insufficient exposure to the common law. In assessing exposure to the common law, the Executive Director will consider the same criteria outlined under subsection 5.2.4

5.2.3 Applications from Canadian Civil Law Graduates

The NCA recognizes the significant Canadian common law component of the legal education of Applicants with a Qualifying Law Degree from a civil law Program at a Canadian law school. Although there are significant differences between the common law (used everywhere in Canada other than Quebec) and the civil law (used in Quebec), all public law in Quebec is based on the common law system.

5.2.3.1 Applicants Licensed by the Barreau du Quebec

Consistent with the provisions of the National Mobility Agreement 2013, which recognizes the significant overlap in the training in Canadian common law and Canadian civil law Programs, an Applicant with a Qualifying Law Degree from a Program at a Canadian law school who holds a licence from the Barreau du Quebec will automatically receive a Certificate of Qualification upon review of their completed application.

5.2.3.2 Unlicensed Canadian Civil Law Graduates

Notwithstanding 5.2 above, an Applicant with a Qualifying Law Degree from a Canadian civil law Program who does not hold a licence from the Barreau du Quebec may demonstrate competence in the Canadian-specific Core Subjects through successful completion of those subjects as part of their Program. Such Applicants will be required to demonstrate competence in the following subjects, unless they have been successfully completed in an Approved Law Program in a Common Law Jurisdiction:

- Contracts;
- Torts;
- Property; and

- Canadian Professional Responsibility (if not successfully completed during the Applicant's Canadian civil law education).

5.2.4 Applications from Non-Common Law Jurisdictions

Graduates of non-common law degree Programs (e.g. civil law, customary law) outside of Canada will not receive recognition for their legal education unless they have sufficient exposure to the common law in accordance with this Policy. Sufficient exposure to the common law may be obtained through:

1. A common law degree (i.e. LL.B., BCL, J.D., Course-based LL.M.). An LL.M. with a focus in international law will not normally provide sufficient exposure to the common law, even if it was completed in a Common Law Jurisdiction. However, the Executive Director will review all transcripts that are Original Documents and has sole discretion to determine if some of the Courses completed can satisfy requirements to proceed in the NCA assessment process. Doctorate degrees (i.e. PhD) will not normally be considered.
2. Licensure as a lawyer, barrister, or solicitor in a Common Law Jurisdiction through the successful completion of substantive Course work and/or examinations. The Executive Director has sole discretion to determine whether the Course work and/or examinations are sufficiently comprehensive for the Applicant to proceed in the NCA assessment process.
3. Certification as a paralegal or notary in a Common Law Jurisdiction. The Executive Director has sole discretion to determine whether the paralegal or notary certification process is sufficiently comprehensive for the Applicant to proceed in the NCA assessment process.

Exposure to the common law in the above-mentioned ways is considered strictly for the purposes of enabling non-common law graduates to proceed in the NCA assessment process. An Applicant with sufficient exposure to the common law, as determined by the Executive Director in accordance with this Policy, will be required to demonstrate competence in all eight (8) Core Subjects through the successful completion of NCA examinations or Courses in an Approved Canadian Common Law Program, plus any Additional Legal Subjects deemed necessary in light of their Qualifications (see subsection 6.3).

6. LENGTH OF LAW PROGRAM

6.1 General

An Applicant is required to have completed three (3) years (or the equivalent number of Course credits) in a law Program. This is consistent with the requirement for Approved Canadian Common Law Programs.

6.2 When Requirement is Not Met

If an Applicant completed a law degree that is less than three (3) years in length, they will be required to demonstrate competency in at least one (1) of the following ways:

1. Completion of Additional Legal Subjects through successful completion of NCA examinations (see section 17) or Courses or a Program (J.D., LL.B., LL.M., bar admissions) deemed acceptable at the sole discretion of the Executive Director, such as:
 - a. An Approved Canadian Common Law Program;
 - b. An Approved Law Program; or
 - c. A mixed law or non-common law Program.
2. At least five (5) years of Professional Legal Experience as defined under subsection 1.3.

6.3 Additional Legal Subjects

When Additional Legal Subjects must be assigned, they will be selected from the following list:

- a. Business Organizations
- b. Civil Procedure
- c. Commercial Law
- d. Evidence
- e. Family Law
- f. Remedies

The number of Additional Legal Subjects assigned will depend on the length of the law Program completed by an Applicant.

In most cases, the Assessment Decision will provide an Applicant with options for which subject(s) they may complete. However, an Applicant will not be assigned subjects that they successfully completed during their legal education.

7. MODE OF STUDY

7.1 Assessing the Mode of Study

The NCA recognizes that the practice of law is an interpersonal endeavour. Problems are solved through interactions with other individuals, requiring an understanding of how to effectively communicate with people in person. This section outlines how the NCA assesses the mode of study for Courses delivered along a spectrum of interaction from In-person Instruction, to Interactive Online Instruction as described in subsection 7.2, to Distance Learning as described in subsection 7.3.

7.2 Interactive Learning Requirement

The National Requirement requires that two-thirds (or two (2) out of three (3) years) of an Applicant's law degree must have been obtained through In-person Instruction or instruction involving direct interaction between instructor and students in an Approved Law Program.

To be recognized as meeting this interactive learning requirement, a Course that is not wholly delivered through In-person Instruction must meet the following criteria:

- I. Courses using Interactive Online Instruction must be part of a Program that consists of no less than one (1) year of In-person Instruction as defined in this Policy.

- II. Courses using Interactive Online Instruction must provide opportunities for students to develop legal problem solving and legal communications skills and include no fewer than six (6) of the following eight (8) components:
 - a. reliable access for instructor and students to all media and applications used in the delivery of the Course;
 - b. a synchronous element providing direct interaction between instructor and students that accounts for no less than 1/3 of the scheduled course hours;
 - c. mechanisms to ensure students satisfy the 1/3 requirement;
 - d. mechanisms to provide formative feedback to students;
 - e. mechanisms to assess student progress, which may include assignments, in-class presentations, or in-class participation;
 - f. methods to assist students in developing oral communications skills including in-class participation, presentations or participation in discussion-groups;
 - g. methods of assessment that:
 - i. are developed by the instructor;
 - ii. are monitored by the instructor or their delegate;
 - iii. ensure students satisfy the relevant elements of the National Requirement;
 - iv. provide some guarantee against academic misconduct; and
 - v. are assessed by the instructor.
 - h. ready access for students to on-line legal resources including:
 - i. case law for the relevant jurisdiction;
 - ii. legislation for the relevant jurisdiction;
 - iii. research tools including digests, loose-leaf services or forms;
 - iv. treatises for the relevant jurisdiction; and
 - v. leading journals for Core Subjects.

The Executive Director will take all evidence obtained directly from the Issuing Institution into consideration to determine whether the interactive learning requirement has been satisfied. In particular, in assessing whether an Interactive Online Instruction Course complies with this Policy, the Executive Director will consider:

- a. the total Course hours;
- b. the number of hours of synchronous contact and the nature of that contact;
- c. the nature and extent of all direct contact between the instructor and students;
- d. the number and nature of assessments and whether they are of a type that permits the instructor to determine whether a student satisfies the relevant elements of the National Requirement;
- e. whether students have online access to core legal materials; and
- f. whether the Course is part of a Program that consists of no less than one (1) year of In-person Instruction.

7.3 Distance Learning

An Applicant who holds a law degree from a Distance Learning Program or any Program that does not meet the interactive learning requirement under subsection 7.2, must successfully complete two (2) years of In-person instruction in a law Program acceptable to the NCA, in addition to any other requirements identified by the Executive Director. The two-year requirement will be reduced to one (1) year In-person for Applicants holding a law degree from a program providing two (2) years of Interactive Online Instruction that meets the requirements set out in subsection 7.2. The two-year requirement may also be reduced at the sole discretion of the Executive Director if an Applicant has received some In-person Instruction or instruction involving direct interaction between instructor and students (as per the National Requirement) in an Approved Law Program.

7.3.1 Instruction Obtained at a Local Learning Centre

Any In-person Instruction or Interactive Online Instruction obtained at a Local Learning Centre, as described under subsection 1.3, will not count toward meeting the interactive learning requirement under subsection 7.2 and will not be recognized by the Executive Director in considering a reduction of the two-year requirement under subsection 7.3.

7.3.2 NCA Examinations Alternative to Courses

Where an Applicant whose Assessment Decision requires them to successfully complete two (2) years in a law Program acceptable to the NCA, is not able to access Courses to complete the Core Subjects in subsection 5.2, the Executive Director may, at their sole discretion, assign NCA examinations as an alternative where satisfied that the Applicant has completed additional legal studies that meet the interactive learning requirement.

7.4 Additional Legal Studies to Satisfy Requirement

Additional Legal Studies completed as part of an Approved Canadian Common Law Program or Approved Law Program or other law school offering acceptable to the NCA at the Executive Director's sole discretion and delivered through In-person Instruction or Interactive Online Instruction that meets the criteria under paragraphs 7.2(I) and (II) will count towards satisfying the interactive learning requirement.

7.4.1 One-year Programs

Additional Legal Studies completed as part of a one (1) year Program (e.g. LL.M) acceptable to the NCA at the Executive Director's sole discretion, must consist of no less than fifty percent (50%) In-person Instruction with the remainder delivered through Interactive Online Instruction that meets the criteria outlined under paragraph 7.2(II).

8. LEGAL ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE

8.1 General

Academic performance is an indicator of an Applicant's command of the legal concepts covered during their legal education. An Applicant's overall academic performance during their law degree (e.g., passing grade or average) and their academic performance in individual Core Subjects will be assessed. An Applicant must first demonstrate acceptable overall legal academic performance before academic performance in individual Core Subjects will be assessed.

8.2 Overall Legal Academic Performance

To be considered acceptable, an Applicant's overall legal academic performance must qualify them for admission to the bar in the Relevant Jurisdiction. An Applicant with unacceptable overall legal academic performance will not receive any recognition for that degree. By way of examples, Third Class or Pass degrees under the British system of legal education and a GPA of less than 1.0 in Australia and the United States, do not qualify as acceptable academic performance.

8.2.1 Remediating Unacceptable Legal Academic Performance

Unacceptable overall legal academic performance may be remedied through successful completion of Additional Legal Studies. When Additional Legal Studies have been successfully completed, the Applicant will be assessed, but will receive no credit for any of the Courses taken during the first law degree. Any Core Subject(s) completed during Additional Legal Studies will, however, be considered.

8.3 Academic Performance in Core Subjects

An Applicant must demonstrate acceptable legal academic performance by completing Courses in Contracts, Torts and Property through an Approved Law Program. A failing grade or a grade less than five percent (5%) or 5 marks, whichever is higher, above the passing grade at the institution of study in any of these Courses constitutes unacceptable legal academic performance. For example, if the institution's passing grade is 50%, the Applicant must have received a grade of at least 55% in each of these Courses.

8.3.1 Remediating Unacceptable Performance in Core Subjects

Unacceptable legal academic performance in a Core Subject may only be remedied through successful completion of the subject through NCA examinations or Additional Legal Studies.

9. CURRENCY OF LEGAL QUALIFICATIONS

9.1 Currency

An Applicant's Qualifications must be current at the time their file was ready for assessment. For an Applicant's Qualifications to be considered current, in three (3) of the past five (5) years they must have been attending a Qualifying Law Degree Program, pursuing additional legal studies and acquiring legal experience, satisfactory to the Executive Director, at their sole discretion, or engaged in some combination of legal studies and legal experience. If an Applicant's Qualifications are not current at the time their file was ready for assessment, the Qualifications will be considered "stale" and the Applicant will be assigned Core Subjects and/or Additional Legal Subjects in accordance with subsection 9.2.

9.2 Assignment of Additional Legal Subjects

One of Contracts, Torts, and Property will be assigned for each five (5) year period that the Applicant does not have current Qualifications, up to fifteen (15) years. If some, or all, of these subjects have already been assigned, Additional Legal Subjects will be assigned from the list in subsection 6.3. If more than fifteen (15) years have passed, the Applicant will be required to complete a minimum of four (4) subjects, with the final number determined at the sole discretion of the Executive Director. When more than ten (10) subjects in total have been assigned, the Executive Director will require the Applicant to complete them, or acceptable alternatives, through In-person instruction at an Approved Canadian Common Law Program or Approved Law Program.

10. OTHER COMPETENCIES

10.1 Demonstrating Other Competencies

- e. identify and evaluate the appropriateness of alternatives for resolution of the issue or dispute.

10.2.1 Satisfying Problem Solving Requirement

- c. use techniques of legal reasoning and argument, such as case analysis and statutory interpretation, to analyze legal issues;
- d. identify, interpret and apply results of research; and
- e. effectively communicate the results of research.

10.3.1 Satisfying Legal Research Requirement

An Applicant must satisfy this requirement by completing a Course in legal research and writing offered by an Approved Canadian Common Law Program or through the NCA legal research and writing module with the Canadian Centre for Professional Legal Education (CPLED).

10.3.2 Coming into Force

Subsection 10.3.1 will apply to applications assessed on or after January 1, 2022. In the case of applications assessed prior to that date, an Applicant will be deemed to have satisfied the legal research requirement in subsection 10.3 if they have successfully completed their legal education and NCA assigned subjects.

10.4 Oral and Written Communications

To demonstrate competence in oral and written communications in English or French, an Applicant must be able to:

- a. identify the purpose of the proposed communication;
- b. use correct grammar, spelling and language suitable to the purpose of the communication and for its intended audience; and
- c. effectively formulate and present well-reasoned and accurate legal argument, analysis, advice or submissions.

10.4.1 Satisfying Oral and Written Communications Requirement

11. LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY REQUIREMENT

11.1 Language Requirement

All Applicants are required to demonstrate proficiency in communicating in at least one (1) of Canada's two (2) official languages, English and French. An Applicant will be considered to have demonstrated the required proficiency in English or French if:

- a. the language of instruction of the Applicant's Qualifying Law Degree was English or French; and
- b. the Qualifying Law Degree was obtained in a country where English or French is an official language.

11.2 When Language Requirement is Not Met

An Applicant who does not meet the language requirement under subsection 11.1 must provide evidence of successful completion within three (3) years of their file being ready for assessment of:

- a. a test accepted by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada as proof of English language proficiency with a minimum score set by the NCA at the sole discretion of the Executive Director in each of the following elements: writing, speaking, reading and listening; or
- b. a test accepted by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada or Immigration Quebec as proof of French language proficiency with a minimum score set by the NCA at the sole discretion of the Executive Director in each of the following elements: writing, speaking, reading and listening.

11.2.1 Language Test Documentation

The Applicant must arrange for all documentation showing proof of the completion of language tests and scores attained to be sent directly from the testing administrator to the NCA.

12. APPLICATION PROCESS

12.1 How to Apply

An Applicant must complete an online assessment application using the NCA web-based platform located at this link. Once completed, an Applicant will be assigned a file number and a password that will enable them to access their candidate profile to track and monitor the status of their application.

12.2 Documentation Required

For the NCA to assess an Applicant's Qualifications, the Applicant must pay the application fee specified by the NCA and submit the following required documentation:

- the online assessment application form;
- all Original Documents for Courses completed during their pre-law university-level education (where applicable) (see subsection 12.3.1);
- all Official Documents related to Courses completed in an Approved Canadian Common Law Program or an Approved Law Program, and Courses or examinations completed in a licensing process (see subsection 12.3.2);
- if currently or formerly licensed, documentation related to the Applicant's standing with the bar in the Relevant Jurisdiction;
- an updated curriculum vitae outlining their Qualifications; and

- any additional documentation that the NCA considers necessary to assess an Applicant's Qualifications.

12.3 Methods for Submitting Documents

The Applicant is responsible for arranging for the submission of all the required documentation listed in subsection 12.2 to the NCA by the method(s) specified in this Policy. Should an Applicant have any questions about submitting documents, they should communicate directly with the NCA.

12.3.1 Submitting Pre-law Documents

While the NCA prefers to receive transcripts for pre-law university-level studies directly from the Issuing Institution, an Applicant may submit these Original Documents to the NCA.

12.3.2 Submitting Law School and Licensing Documents (Official Documents)

Official Documents, including law school transcripts and all licensing-related documents, must be sent directly from the Issuing Institution(s) to the NCA by post, courier or through a secure online document sharing system. It is the responsibility of the Applicant to contact the Issuing Institution(s) to make the necessary arrangements for submitting these documents. The NCA will not accept these documents if they are submitted by the Applicant.

12.4 Refugee Applicants

While Refugee Applicants are encouraged to submit the required documentation in accordance with subsections 12.2 and 12.3, the NCA will work with each Applicant to determine suitable alternative arrangements and documentation if they are unable to obtain Original Documents or arrange for documents to be submitted directly from Issuing Institutions to the NCA. In such cases, Refugee Applicants will be required to present evidence of refugee or similar status, along with any other documentation the NCA determines is needed for an assessment. The NCA will take all reasonable steps to proceed with the assessment if a Refugee Applicant is unable to provide required documents.

12.5 Privacy

For security and privacy reasons, the NCA cannot provide any information relating to an Applicant's file to family members or friends who may be inquiring on an Applicant's behalf, unless the Applicant authorizes the release of the information in writing.

12.6 Translation of Documentation

Any required documents listed in subsection 12.2 that are in a language other than English or French must be translated into English or French. An Applicant must submit the Original Document accompanied by the translation. For the NCA to accept the translation the following conditions must be met:

- a. the translation must be of the Original Document; and
- b. the translation must be:
 - i. performed and certified by a Certified Translator; or
 - ii. performed by another translator and accompanied by an affidavit of the translator indicating their qualifications as a translator and confirming the translation is of the Original Document. The Executive Director has sole discretion to determine whether the translator's qualifications or the translation are sufficient. The Executive Director has sole discretion to obtain an external opinion on the translator's qualifications.

Documents that are already in English or French do not have to be translated, even if an Applicant's application is in the other official language. For example, an application completed in French may be accompanied by documents in English.

13. ASSESSMENT PROCESS

13.1 General

An Applicant's Qualifications will be assessed by the NCA in accordance with this Policy, and any other NCA policies in force at the time of the assessment, after all required fees have been paid and all required documents as specified in section 12.2 have been received by the NCA.

13.2 Previous Policies Do Not Apply

The NCA will not apply expired, out-of-date, or superseded policies to current applications, nor will it waive requirements assigned or otherwise imposed under previous policies should the Policy change after an Assessment Decision has been issued.

13.3 Assessment Decision

Following an assessment of the Applicant's file, a written Assessment Decision will be issued electronically to the Applicant. The Assessment Decision will include reasons and will specify how the Applicant can complete the assigned requirements.

13.4 Assessment Validity

An Applicant's Assessment Decision will be valid for a period of five (5) years from the date it is issued.

13.4.1 Request to Extend Validity Period
